vate disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, the color will be a thin milky hue, again changing to a dark and turbid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will a healthy restoration to the genital-urinary or-

CONTINENTAL WAR CLOUDS.

Dispatches from Europe are full of war signs, in which France is surrounded by enemies and threatened with attack. Bismarck is eager for war, backed by Austria, Italy, and possibly Spain. Russia is inclined to get on the winning side. The tone of the German journals is absolutely savage. France is in a rage at the daily and offensive admonitions received from English as well as German journals. The German Minister of War is making a tour of inspection of the defenses in Alsace-Lorraine, and has ordered an increase in the number of guns at Metz. This trouble has all arisen from a suspected insult to the Crown Prince who is en route to a visit to Spain.

A GREAT UNKNOWN.

Jay-Eye-See's Half-Brother Bought by Case.

The Chicago Tribune's Racine (Wis.) special of the 17th says. J. I. Case purchased to-day from Mr. Easton, of Lexington, Ky., the four-year-old stallion Endymion, a half-brother of Jay-Eye-See, the consideration being $10,000. The horse, which is fully expected to fully equal the achievements of Jay-Eye-See, resembles the gelding in several points. He is black, weighs 1,050 pounds and is said to possess wonderful speed. His best record now is 2:32, but at private trial he is reported to have lowered that by several seconds. Those who claim to be posted allege that he will be something of a rival to Case's other trotters.

Sheridan Becoming Restive.

Friends of General Sheridan says that he is not altogether happy in his new position in command of the army, and is becoming restive under the mode of transacting business at the War Department. He is practically nothing more than a clerk to Secretary Lincoln, though consulted on many matters and permitted to look after routine and subordinate things connected with the management of the army. It is only a question of time when he will become thoroughly discontented, and there will be an outbreak between him and Lincoln. Sheridan likes to have his own way and will have it or a row will ensue.

"Political Arithmetic."

The Galveston, Texas, News asks this question: "Will it pay the Democrats of New York to retain precarious alliance with the leaders of 40,000 voters, including a large proportion of the worst elements in the city, at the cost of alienating 75,000 intelligent independent voters?" Perhaps Mr. John Kelly, or some of the other astute New York Democratic leaders can furnish the proper answer.

"Black Bart" has been sent to San Quentin for six years. Bolton made a statement to the Court. He denied being "Black Bart," and declared that this was his first, as it should be his last, offence against the law. He said that circumstances over which he had no control had urged him to the commission of the crime, and that he had yielded to the temptation after severe struggles. He implored the mercy of the Court. The Court thereupon, after stating to the prisoner the crime of which he stood self-convicted, and giving him a few words of admonition, sentenced him to six years imprisonment at San Quentin.

Allen G. Thurman prints a card saying the statements are false, to the effect that his father, Allen G. Thurman, would be a candidate for United States Senator in opposition to Senator Pendleton.

Mr. Thurman says his distinguished father is forever out of state politics, and would be the last man in the world to enter the list against so distinguished a representative of Ohio Democracy as George H. Pendleton.

Everything that the Government turns it attention to of late years seems to yield a surplus return. The postal service became a paying one and the income was cut off. Now it appears that the Patent Office has earned $2,500,000 more than it could spend, which amount it has to its credit in the Treasury.

Hendricks says the election of Carlisle, as Speaker will be a mistake. It's dollars to apples the Democrats blunder all Winter long.

THE POLITICAL FIELD.

Latest Aspect of the Speakership Fight—Randall on the Ground.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—All the candidates for Speaker are in the city. Representative Randall arrived here this afternoon, and received many callers this evening. The ex-Speaker is in the best of health, and he apparently has no anxiety as to the result of the impending fight. To a correspondent he said: "I do not wish to be interviewed. Votes, not interviews, will elect the next Speaker, and I think the public is satisfied with the interviews that have already been published." There were twenty-two Democratic members of the House in the city last night, and not more than half a dozen others came to town to-day. Mr. Randall concedes to Mr. Carlisle and to Mr. Cox votes which a careful canvass has shown will be cast for these gentlemen. He is apparently satisfied with the situation, and he does not feel called upon to print tabular statements to convince the public that he is certain of being elected. He says he is sure of eighty-five ballots at the start. Randall's friends believe that the recent elections have proven that the Democratic party must exert itself to elect a President in 1884. The votes of New York, New Jersey and California are regarded as necessary for a Democratic victory, and the simple question at issue in the pending fight is whether the Democrats will elect as Speaker a man who is hostile to the sentiments of the people of those States on the tariff question. It has been reported that the six votes of California would be divided between Cox and Carlisle, but Randall's friends say that the Representatives of the Pacific slope, with its wine, wool, borax and metals, cannot well vote for candidates favoring a great reduction in duties and ultimate free trade. General Rosecrans, Glasscock, Henley and Tulley are in the city, and Mr. Sumner and Mr. Budd are expected here next week. Mr. Sumner is openly a supporter of Cox. Rosecrans refuses to define his position, but it is well understood that he favors the election of Carlisle. Mr. Glasscock is not committed to any candidate. Mr. Henley, it is understood, will vote for Cox. Tulley is uncommitted. Budd is regarded as sure to vote for Randall. Representative Springer, of Illinois, arrived here to-day, and says he is a candidate.

Mr. Tilden as a Voter.

There are so many conflicting stories about Mr. Tilden's health, strength and vivacity that the public is in doubt which to believe. Some accounts say he takes frequent horseback rides, and sits his Rosinante like a youthful equestrian; others that he is given to yachting, in which pastime he finds much pleasure; and still others, that he looks feeble and broken. A reporter of one of the New York papers, who followed him to the polls on election day, draws the following picture of his appearance: When Mr. Tilden issued from his handsome residence, he wore a loose-fitting black suit, a high collar and black tie, a loose black overcoat with a velvet collar and a slim black silk hat. He walked slowly down the steps, followed by Mr. Smith, his private secretary, and they both entered the carriage. When the carriage reached the polling-place the driver brought it around with a flourish and a graceful curve before the door. Mr. Tilden walked with slow steps across the sidewalk. His small, pinched face had a weary look, and his eyes were not bright. He looked as if he wished he had stayed at home. His hands shook continually at his sides, and his lips moved without uttering anything. At the threshold he stopped and rested for a minute, while his secretary pulled out a bunch of tickets, and led Mr. Tilden in. The latter took off his hat.

"What is the name?" respectfully asked one of the inspectors. There was a next to inaudible murmur, and the inspector repeated in a loud voice, "Samuel J. Tilden." When Mr. Tilden told his address it could not be heard three feet away. After voting he bowed, the half dozen persons present lifted their hats, and the sage of the Democracy was driven to his home. He voted the straight Democratic ticket.

The Trade Dollar.

A Washington special says: The dollar nuisance is certain to attract the early attention of Congress. The President and the Cabinet have had the matter under consideration, and it may be considered certain that Secretary Folger will discuss the question pointedly in his report, and strongly recommend the redemption of all trade dollars, and that instead of issuing additional standard dollars, to take the place of the trade dollars retired trade dollars shall be received as bullion, and used in coining the present lawful requirements of standard silver coin.

Cassidy is for Carlisle, with all that that implies—Kentucky, the Solid South, and a tariff for revenue only. It will be a good joke on Lin if Carlisle should happen to be defeated.

HENDRICKS TALKS POLITICS.

He Speaks a Good Word for Tilden and Sumner Cox.

Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks was in Chicago last Friday. To a reporter he said the recent election in New York was fraught with great significance. "It demands," he said, "the most careful consideration next year at the hands of the Democratic party in the selection of a nominee. It is evident that New York is a very close State and swings in the balance. Nothing should be done to jeopardize its vote, and the man who has the greatest strength in that State should be nominated for President. I shall mention no names, because I do not care to tread on any one's toes, nor seem to advance the political fortunes of any one, but I feel convinced that the sound, good sense of the party will be alive to the necessities of the hour by the time the convention meets. I was much surprised at the outcome of the election in New York; quite as much so as I was at the result in Ohio. I looked for 60,000 majority for the Democratic State ticket. I was also surprised at Butler's strong vote. Far from becoming an object of derision and scorn, he has shown himself an admirable leader, with great political resources behind him. I do not regard him as killed off by any means.

It looks very much as if the Republican party is going to fall back on the sectional issue. The Virginia election has given it an opportunity, and it is clearly going to make the most of it. It behooves us, therefore, to be wary and afford them no chance to make capital. For this reason, especially, I should like to see Cox elected Speaker. Randall is a little extreme in one direction, and Carlisle too much so in the other. The latter also hails from Kentucky, and should be elected, it would give an increased impetus to the Southern cause, which they are endeavoring to inaugurate. Cox is satisfactory to everybody, and unsatisfactory to no one. He is able, honest and would grace the position. I should not be surprised to see him win, in view of the sharp fight in progress between the other two. He will get two votes from Indiana and perhaps three. Another thing that will please me will be to see Chicago chosen for the National Democratic Convention. It is desirable for several reasons, and I am inclined to think that they will fix upon it this time."

SERGEANT MASON'S CASE.

What Washington Officials Think of His Imprisonment.

Prominent officials say that the country thinks that Sergeant Mason has been sufficiently punished for firing at Gaitan and not hitting him, and his retention in the penitentiary, while his superior officers escape scot free or with ridiculously inadequate penalties for such conduct as embezzlement, duplication of pay orders, drunkenness, gambling, immoral conduct and infractions of army discipline is a travesty on justice and is disgusting to the people of this country. Is army justice intended for rank and file? Are court-martials not expected to "punish army officers? If this be so, and it looks that way, then the people of the country should formulate a demand for Sergeant Mason's release, which the President will be obliged to concede. Every day he remains in prison, while his superiors, who have committed still greater offenses by virtue of their rank go free, great injustice is done. If this ignorant, half-crazed soldier is to be punished any longer, then let some of the shoulder straps who are not ignorant or half-crazed be brought to justice. If they are not, then let him be released. The farce has gone long enough and ought to be stopped in the name of common decency.

Five Cents a Mile.

The Chicago Tribune says: The California roads have fixed the price of passenger tickets from Chicago to San Francisco at $103.70. Of this amount $14.70 is paid to roads from Chicago to Omaha or Kansas City, a distance of about 500 miles, or 3 cents per mile. From Omaha to San Francisco is less than 1,800 miles, and the toll is $89, or 5 cents per mile, which is an outrageous charge. It is a shame that Congress permits these contractors to devour the public in this way on roads built by the money of the Government, but the average Congressman is a cheap commodity, and is willing for a bribe that extortion shall continue. His oath and duty kick the beam when weighed against a purse of gold.

The Land League.

The National Union League has postponed the meeting it proposed to hold at Atlanta, Ga., on the 21st of November and instead thereof General James S. Negley, the President, has called a meeting at the Ebbett House, Washington, on the 12th of December. The Republican National Committee meets at the same time and place.

MONEY PAID OUT.

A Calculation of the Cash Disbursed Regularly in Eureka.

(Sentinel 17th.)

During these times when there is general complaint of depression and shrinkage in Eureka it is not a bad idea to look about and see whether the situation is as discouraging as it appears to the croakers. In conversation last evening with a gentleman who is in position to know pretty well what money is disbursed in the camp, he gave it as his opinion that at least $110,000 are paid out in Eureka every month, a very large part of which is spent right here in town. This excludes all moneys paid out by the E. & P. Railroad, which is a considerable sum as well as all other moneys disbursed by the business houses in the camp. In other words, it is his estimate that the mining companies in this district alone pay out at least $110,000 per month. He says that, to start with, the Richmond and Eureka Companies are paying out not less than $40,000 per month for custom ores. We believe he placed his figures in this instance quite low, at any rate within safe bounds. To this item add the expense of coal, which is very great, and what is paid to the laborers and for other running expenses, the Richmond and Eureka Con. Companies, he estimates, disbursed $100,000 per month. The other $10,000 he says will hardly cover the amount paid out by the numerous small mines that are being worked by a few miners each in almost every part of the district. This calculation, it must be held in mind, is made applicable to the present, while the camp is undergoing one of the worst spells of depression that it has suffered for a number of years. The stoppage of work at the Logan shaft and in the Eureka tunnel makes a big difference in the amount of money put into circulation monthly. The trouble that we are just now in in these respects we have good reason to expect will soon be removed. But when we add to the monthly disbursements of the E. & P. Railroad, the salaries of county officers, the salaries of men and women in every sort of business and labor, it must be seen at a glance that there is plenty of money changing hands here to give good, wholesome life to any town of the size of Eureka.

Some Big Families.

Mrs. Houston, of Portland, Maine, boasts of four pairs of twins born within a period of seven years.

"Bee" Carryman, one of the oldest women of the Florida Seminoles, has had thirteen children.

Christopher Mann of Independence, Mo., has been married twice, and is the father of twenty-six children.

The mother of twenty-eight children is still living in Atlanta, Ga., though twenty-three of her offsprings are dead.

Mrs. Mary P. Jones, of Stevenson, Ala., who has just celebrated her one hundredth birthday, has 216 lineal descendants.

Mrs. Ann Scott, who lives near Hudson, N. Y., has been married four times and has brought sixteen children into the world.

From statistics compiled in Prussia, it is learned that twins occur once in 89 births, triplets once in 7,910, and quadruplets once in 371,120.

The funeral of Lucy Fish Curtis, who died at West Randolph, Vt., at the age of about 100 years, was attended by all her six children, the youngest being fifty five and the oldest eighty-three years of age.

Wiley Moore, of South Washington, Bender county, N. C., took an inventory of his descendants the other day, and found the number up to date to be 364, including children, grandchildren, great and great-grandchildren.

Elice Baggs, a native of Scriven county, Ga., went to Florida at six years of age, married at thirteen, and her first child was born when she was only fourteen. She is now thirty-one and has eighteen children (twins twice), fifteen of whom are living.

At a recent family gathering in Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., there was found to be two grandfathers, two grandmothers, six children, one brother, three sisters, one uncle, two aunts, five cousins, three nieces, one son, four daughters, three fathers, three mothers, two fathers-in-law, three mothers-in-law, and yet the entire gathering only comprised ten persons.

Civil Service.

A Philadelphia paper, which has not always been complimentary in speaking of President Arthur, thinks he intends to do what is right in the enforcement of the civil service act. It says:

The modification of the civil service rule, which debars the heads of departments from making political discriminations in selecting persons for appointments from among those certified by the Commissioners, makes the civil service system unpartisan in fact, as well as in profession. In taking this step President Arthur has shown good sense, and not a little shrewdness—good sense in doing the one thing necessary to make civil service reform an accomplished fact, and not a pretentious and hollow sham, and shrewdness in taking away from the Democrats who oppose the reform the plea that no real reform was intended by the adoption of the system.

The Eureka Sentinel has resumed the Associated Press report. Richardson, the San Francisco agent, is a Democrat, and so it was only a little family quarrel after all.

LIGHT ON THE FOSSILS.

Professor Haveror's Contention That the Carson Footprints Are Not Entitled to the Distinction of Having Been Made in Prehistoric Times.

(Enterprise 18th.)

Conductor William M. Haveror, of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad, who is the owner of one of the finest mineralogical and geological collections in Nevada, and who has made a study of anthropology, has been investigating in his leisure hours the Carson footprints and alleged prehistoric relics dug up at the State Prison quarry, and has reached a conclusion in respect to them entirely different from that held by the savants from California and the East who have been wrestling with the problem. Professor Haveror is, we understand, preparing a paper on the subject, which he intends to read at the next meeting of the Nevada Academy of Sciences, of which he is the honored President. Meanwhile he has addressed the following communication, embodying his views in regard to the aforesaid fossils, etc., to Warden Bell, who had forwarded them to him for his examination:

VIRGINIA, November 16, 1883.
Hon. Frank Bell, Warden Nevada State Prison—Dear Sir: After closely examining the formation, fossils, bones, shell and sandstone, which you so kindly sent me, I have no reason to believe the formation belongs to a remote epoch or date from a period exceeding 1,000 years. The formation was caused by the Carson river running northwest of the short range of mountains that lie between the present course of the Carson river and the Nevada State Prison, the channel of the river being not far from the Prison yard, and swinging around to the southeast at the point of rocks about one-half mile below the Prison. As the channel filled up, the water spread over the valley and formed an inland lake, the river bringing down sand, gravel, debris and vegetation from the Sierras, the finer alluvium being deposited below the Prison, and as it filled up formed the layers of sandstone in which the footprints and other tracks are found, the water taking up the solution of lime dissolved from the shells, lime stone and hot springs formation, cementing the sand. The coarser sand and gravel in which the fossil bones and tracks occur contains a great quantity of fine particles of iron, and by the water percolating through it would quickly become solidified. All the fossil tracks in the sandstone belong to the present period, with the exception of the elephant, which at that time inhabited Southwestern California, and during the Summer months ranged along the series of springs and rivers from the Big Trees through Hermit, Charity and Faith Valleys and Carson Canyon to Bell's Lake (which I have named after you), the present site of the State Prison, a distance of about 150 miles. Fossil remains of the elephant have been found in Hermit Valley four feet from the surface. The man tracks are indisputable. They are probably a trifle larger than the original, the sand being forced outward by the pressure, and were those of a large and powerful tribe of Indians, who were skilled in warfare and in the pursuit of game, and, following the rivers and lakes, roamed as far south as Owens Lake. We find at Washoe Lake obsidian arrowheads of fine workmanship. The nearest obsidian is at White Mountain, about 200 miles south, showing that they migrated between these places, Bell's Lake, Steamboat and other hot springs being their natural camping grounds in cold weather; and at most of these places mortars are to be found in the rocks. The large number of fossils found in the sandstone is accounted for from the fact that they were unable to extricate themselves from the deep sand. Shortly after the lake filled up, the channel of the river changed above the short range of mountains to its present course, and, following the dip of the limestone, sinks when it comes in contact with the sandstone, as do other rivers in the State. The formation of the rocks, depth of natural soil, salt and borax marshes, lakes of brackish water and the absence of coal, denote a very recent formation, and, in connection with the winds blowing from the west against the summits of the Sierras, dry their moisture and become so dry on reaching the plains and valleys that vegetation would only exist by irrigation, except along the rivers and springs, and would only be sufficient to sustain a limited amount of animal life. Much more might be written on this interesting subject, but, as this is quite lengthy, I will close. Yours respectfully,
W. M. HAVENOR.

Near Enough.

(Philadelphia Call.)
A Michigan girl told her young man that she would never marry him until he was worth $100,000. So he started out with a brave heart to make it.

"How are you getting along George?" she asked at the expiration of a couple of months.
"Well," George said hopefully, "I have saved up $22."
The girl dropped her eyelashes and blushing remarked, "I reckon that's near enough, George."

A Lawyer's Testimony.
During eight years my attacks of dyspepsia were so terrible that I often had to stop business. Parker's Ginger Tonic built me up from almost a skeleton to the perfect health I now enjoy. J. Jerolomon, Lawyer, N. Y. City.

A Card.

William Pinniger tenders his best thanks to his numerous friends, and the public generally, for the very liberal support accorded him in the past, and he begs to inform them that he has again effected a co-partnership with R. E. Queen, at the old stand, and respectfully invites a continuance of their patronage. The new firm have added largely to their stock of drugs, chemicals, patent medicines, wines and liquors for medicinal purposes; toilet and fancy articles, etc. In the dispensing departments they make a specialty of physicians' prescriptions and family receipts, bringing to their already large experience the latest achievements in scientific pharmacy, and are prompt in filling all orders intrusted to them.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. Feb. 21-sw-lyr

Dyspeptics.

Common signs of Dyspepsia, or indigestion, are an oppression at the stomach, flatulency, water-brash, loss of appetite, and general debility. Dyspeptic patients suffer from indigestion, bad habits and mental. They cannot digest the food, and secure relief by the use of the bowels, by the use of the pills.

Ayer's Pills.

When the bowels are regulated, one of these pills, taken after dinner, is usually sufficient to complete the cure. The pills are sugar-coated and purely vegetable, entirely safe, and reliable remedies for the cure of all disorders of the stomach and bowels. They are the best of all purgatives for family use.

Taxpayers will probably insist that these harmless parasites ought to have been left alone to entertain their guests.

U. S. Marshal Corbett Finally Grabs The Defaulting Star-Route Witness.

Hon. George E. Spencer, ex Senator from Alabama, was in Nevada when the second Star-route trial was called in Washington last year, and the Government wanted him as a witness, but he managed to get over into Canada, and did not return to the United States until after the conclusion of the celebrated case. He returned to Nevada and U. S. Marshal Corbett immediately notified the Department of Justice. About ten days ago Attorney-General Brewster telegraphed Corbett to arrest Spencer and bring him to Washington. The Marshall notified Al. Knuckles, his Deputy at Cherry Creek, to "spot" Spencer and report. Upon ascertaining where Spencer was, Mr. Corbett sent out Louis Wardle to meet Knuckles, and the two repaired to Austin and arrested Spencer yesterday morning. Mr. Corbett will escort the gentleman to Washington, where Spencer is wanted for "contempt of Court," and where Brewster will endeavor to give him the full limit of the law.

Fearful State of Lawlessness in Grant County, Oregon.

It appears that serious troubles prevail in Grant county, Oregon, where many of the Indians, who ran away from Yakima, have been hunting this Fall, and where a number of them yet remain, though, according to reports received by the Putes, they intend to winter in the vicinity of Fort McDermitt. News has been received from a gentleman who arrived at Portland a few days ago from Grant county, that an ineffective Indian was found at Big Basin, shot through the back of the neck, and E. C. Officer and his two sons, who went to the Basin soon after the Indian was killed, were pursued by Indians, and forced to take refuge in a cave. At last accounts they were surrounded by about 30 Indians, who were intent on revenging the death of the member of their tribe. The Indians are said to be very much excited, and serious trouble is anticipated.

The gentleman, who gave this information to the Portland papers, says a fearful state of lawlessness exists in Grant county; assassinations are alarmingly frequent, and shooting affrays occur almost every day; an organized band of thieves and murderers appear to be operating in that section.

Some of the Advantages of Having a Guaranteed Title.

The San Francisco Mining and Scientific Press has this to say relative to patenting mines:

So much has been said about the benefits of patenting mining claims that it would seem as if all miners would recognize them. It is a fact, however, that too many neglect this important duty, and when the time comes when they have an opportunity to sell, it is lost through neglect of ability to guarantee title. A Government patent is accepted as a guarantee of good title. Before it can be procured certain forms have to be gone through and adverse claims settled, so that a patented claim is free from possible legal entanglements, so apt to encumber those which have not been put to test.

So well are these facts recognized by experts and capitalists, that a very good mine will often be refused if not patented. The parties who buy unpatented mines now, insist on retaining a part of the purchase money until the patent is forthcoming. And this is no more than just. If there is any flaw it will come out during the patent application proceedings, though none may have been apparent during many years of undisputed possession. Instances are so numerous where flaws have appeared that purchasers are not safe unless they protect themselves in some way like this. Every miner with a claim worth working ought to consider it worth patenting. A good mine with a poor title is not an enviable piece of property; better have a comparatively poor mine with a good title. A man with a promising location which is patented will stand many more chances of seeing it sold than one of which he has merely a possessory title. These questions should be seriously considered by all miners, who, while developing a good property, should see to it that they perfect a good title also.

The ladies connected with and those interested in the welfare of the Methodist Church, contemplate holding a fair, festival and literary entertainment in the near future, probably about the 15th or 16th of December, for the purpose of raising funds to make the Christmas tree interesting by loading it with presents for the little folks. With this object in view they are busily engaged in making fancy and useful articles for that occasion. Due notice of the time and programme will be given.

It appears that beer is the most whole some beverage yet introduced, not accepting light wines. The London Medical News, which stands high as an authority, discusses beverages from a sanitary standpoint, and concludes that a light, bitter beer, brewed from malt and hops, will yet be recognized as the most wholesome drink, and one which will the most surely prevent intemperance. Such a beer as that is the beer manufactured by Geo. Becker, of the Pacific Brewery, Reno.

Wm. Crowhurst, of San Francisco, Grand Lecturer of I. O. G. T. for California, will deliver a series of lectures in this State, shortly, on the subject of "Temperance." He will be in Dayton Tuesday evening, Nov. 20th; Virginia, 21st and 22d; Carson, 23d and 24th, and at Reno on the 25th. The lectures will be free, and as the speaker comes highly recommended a large attendance may be expected.

J. W. Mackay left San Francisco for New York, via the Southern Pacific, last Sunday.

Senator James G. Fair, it is said, has returned to New York City, having temporarily abandoned his proposed visit to the Comstock.

A vigorous growth of hair is promoted and the youthful color restored by applying Parker's Hair Balsam.

The Immense Ponds of the Truckee Lumber Co. to be Utilized.

Another important industry is about to be added to the interests of the Truckee basin. The ice harvest will soon be at hand, and the Truckee Lumber Company have concluded to in the future utilize their ponds. They have two of them—one at the mill and the other and larger one at their dam, across the Truckee river. It is estimated that with their present facilities they can now easily harvest about 12,000 tons. The location of the dam across the river is admirably adapted for harvesting ice, especially with the facilities possessed by the company. By their system of dams up the river they have perfect control of the waters of the Truckee river, and they easily flood the large flat on the south side of the river, which will, at the lowest estimate, fully double their present manufacturing facilities. For some years past the scheme has been talked of, and finally the company has decided to go ahead with it. A large ice house with a storing capacity of six thousand tons or over, is to be built on the flat about midway between the saw mill and the mill dam. Work on this building will be commenced inside of ten days, and will be pushed through with all possible speed in order to take advantage of the ice making weather. Truckeites rely on the latter part of November and the first of December. All the latest improved tools for harvesting ice have been ordered from the East, and will be here by the time the house is completed and the ice frozen. The ice business is one of the most important industries of the Truckee river, and the Truckee Lumber Co. propose to add this branch industry to its present large business, and it has every facility for so doing. They have a branch establishment in San Francisco through which they can handle their ice. Their ponds are within a few steps of their office, and sidetracks are already built from the main track to within a few yards of where their ice house is to be built, and lastly, and really the most important item, is the fact that they will not be compelled to keep up any special organization to put their product on the San Francisco market. One of the greatest items of expense of ice men on the Truckee river is the trouble of procuring the necessary help to harvest the ice when the proper time comes. But this annoyance the Truckee Lumber Company will not experience, for they always have a large number of men in their employ, and can handle almost any amount of ice in a short time. It is another Meadow Lake enterprise, and it will add just that much more to her taxable property.
